The contest is over, and the village, after

The question of the present contest was ther party-it was a question of taxation ad of Reeveship. Clear Grits and Modeites were to be seen voting and electioneerg on all sides,—the Roman Catholic vote as also divided, -- and, us a consequence, busiderable excitement prevailed, particularfor a couple of hours previous to the closg of the poll. To the Editor of the New Era.

MR. EDITOR,-In looking over your valuable journal, I tos from time to time complaints or comments on the conduct, abili ty, or legal acumen of Justices of the Peace in different localities. Sometimes we find communication from your sister village across the river, commenting rather freely upon village Justices, and then again we read a communication from another locality, in similar language holding up to the gaze of an intelligent public the sins of omission as well as commission of the chosen conservators of the public peace. Such, Mr. Editor, wil continue to be the case, until a better system is devised,—a system that will give uniform ty, as well as legal certainty to the proceed ings and decisions of Justices of the Peace And, sir, in my opinion the man who wi claborate this system, and promulgate it is a tangible shape, so as to be adopted by thos veto their designs. But, as we observed whom it may concern, will deserve well of his countrymen-and should have his name placed high in their affections. Now, significant permission I will prode lay fore your numerous readers the features of a system that will, in my ophijob, rovo a straig panacea. In th at place along me to premise, that after all that has been gold and every about to Autora whist of thereity come County Town. Newtherket may talk, Sharon may contend, - Richmond Hill may snarl,-Holland Landing may growl,-bu after all, Aurora is the spot ... Everything conspires to point to this conclusion. No only is it the focus of Politics, Religion and Literature, but it is pre-ominently so of Law Not your common law, but the real genuine law out of the "Big Buk lately imported." And although this law is dispensed ever day, when there is the slight chance, yet it none of your common law after all. "Supreme Court" established here, has es tablished a tariff of penalties for the various crimes known to our laws, a few only of which I will mention in order to give you a frint idea of its magnificient impartiality .--For stealing sheep, when the case is very clearly proved, the criminal to return the sheep and fleece and pay the cost of the Court. For house-breaking and taking property therefrom, criminal to return property and pay costs of Court! sure. For shooting dog, beyond the distance presented by law. from his master-twenty-four dollars and costs of Court, the sine qua non: and so on through all the different grades of crime, --Now, sir, you will easily perceive why Aurora is destined to become the County Town, and also the remedy for the evils complained of by your correspondents-Aurora being the County Town and a "Chief Justice" domiciled therein, the various Justices throughout the County will only be under necessity of calling on the illustrious chief, and obtain from bim a schedule of crimes with his Tariff of penalties attached, and one uniform system of dealing with offenders will speedily obtain throughout the county. Another advantage applicants may avail themselves of, not possessed by other localities is this, there are necessarily many minor details that the chief could not condescend to notice and which is chance, and the clink of a few cents will procure a favorable legal opinion, to both plaintiff and defendant. Now, Mr Editor, if any other locality combines so many advantages, I would like to visit it. Newmarket may contain more inhabitants, but has it a chief Justice? Sharon may bosst a Temple, but has it'a "Big Richmond Hill may glory in excel sine, but has it a Supreme Coort? No sir: Aurora alone combines ail these, and the Clerk to boot. The man who possesses all knowledge of law, leather and literature, and who can pronounce as well upon a point of law, as on a side of leather, or the exquisite proportions of a glass of half and halfthen, sir, with all these advantages in her favor let Aurora become the County seat, and the cure of the ills complained of Ly your correspondents will follow, as a matter of

United States.

The Journal, published at Springfield, Ill. the residence of the President elect, is supposed to express his opinions. The substance of one of its leading editorials, says Zion's Herald, is that South Carolina gannot dis solve the Union by the passing of resolutions other passive demonstrations. Her Fe deral Officers may resign, and she may close reasonable terms from the chief's clerk who her Courts and Post-offices, but she cannot get out of this Union until she conquers this government. If South Carolina does not obstruct the revenues at her ports, nor violate another Federal law, there will be no trouble, and she will not be out of the Union. If she violates the law, then comes the tug of war. The President of the United States, in such an emergency, has a plain duty to perform, If the act on the part of South Carolina takes place on or after the 1st of March; 1861 then the duty of executing the laws will devolve upon Mr. Lincoln. The laws of the United States must be executed. Mr. Lincoln will perform that duty. Disunion by armed force is treason, and treason must and will be put down at all hazards.

We have continually awarned the public to touch no Canadian money except the old established and acknowledged Bank and particularly cautioned them against the Bank of Clifton, and also the Great Western of Canada. Old time is dying-lightly tread Around his shivering, loy bed; His looks betoken life's lest throe, Enrobed in chilly chrouds of tuow. There lies the monaroli few at last, Who awayed his coopire o'er the past; Whose fickle will for one brief year, Ruled earth with felly, joy and fear: But all with Merry bearts propero, To welcome the young coming Helr, Who will like Phonix form arise, From sahes of the elro that dies.

But let at now the exploits sing Of the short-lived capricious King, Or excerate without disguise, The faults his wayward life supplies. First, Italy-charmed spot of carth, Where arts and science had their lath,-Where Liberty's first lucid beam, Shed forth her blizaful powers supreme, Inspiring land | Oh | land divine The world reveres thy classic shrine; And we with joyous sweet carprise, Behold again thy splendors rice.

Caribaldi, thy honored name, High in the temple bright of Panic-Inscribed with Washington's along i-Far, fer, above all earth hath known. At thy command up rose the mate, The Rubicon of Straits they pass Like meteors, from Isle to shore, And despotism is no more. Emanuel and Cayour wise, Bid the cofranchized nation rice, And plove, that the Italian cause Is worthy of the world's applause. While Britain's power-supremely great, Protects the infant free-horn state: Her Lion blocks the despot's way, And keeps the Russian bears at bay, Yes, vast events mark the old year, --Japan starts on the world's carcer .-In arts and science, commerce rife, She is inspired anew with life. And the Celestial Empire, too, Per force, is opened up to view: And Western Banners are unfurled At Pckin-o'er a new-born world.

We bld the Old World now adicu And touch on events of the New. The Yankee Nation's voice supreme, Awaked the South from her black dream, And shows sho can no longer crave The North, to catch and bind the slave, As Lincoln in the chair of state Will real the "Institution's" fate. "Secession," every tyrant cries, "We break the Union and arise, "In all our sovereign Southern right "Against the Northern negro spite."

But homeward flies the jaded muse, To sing our own domestic news Of Politics-where Freedom reigns. Except the fretting Galic chains. The visit of the Prince of Wales-The dynasty itself assails,-As the sequence will shortly show, First symptoms of volcanic three. When first announced, his coming fleet. All were prepared to fondly great, The Son and Heir of our good Queen, With welcome heartfelt and supreme. But suddenly to zero fell The fervor of the magic spell. First, at Quebec the Prince was met By Mayor and a mongrel set. And Next to the "Inferior race" Came the old bauble called a " Mace." With Parliament's two houses stale --A dragging, cringing, worthless tail. And then to cap the whole with grace, In polished language of the race, The strange Address to " England's pride In French was read-and he replied. But soon as Edward Westward came. Where Britons British freedom claim, A change came o'er the stately dream-"No Party Colors" was the theme. As Plato holy water hates-The bloody Turk the christian rates, Or as a bull a scarlet rag-So Cartier hates an Orange Plag. The Premier threatened to resign, And John A. to his fate consign, If Orango flag or arch salute His Royal Highness and his mite: -Thus stood John A. between two fires-Two opposite, extreme desires,-Office, with all its rich stipends, And duty to his Orange friends. But with an instinct true to self, He chose the all-absorbing pelf; And handed o'er the "Orange boys" As if they were but simple toys: When virtue's gone no oaths can bind: The "Shuffle" so debased the mind-That John A. and each perjured knave, Forgot the Orange row he gave. But Kingston's Britons ever true-Their Party tunes more fiercely blow; Refusing e'en their flag to strike, To Cartier's apleon, or Duke's dislike, Although the traitors who had sold, Their principles for slavish gold. For petty office or for spite. Had got themselves into a plight; Yet all men felt the insult base, All Protestants, the foul disgrace, And the whole visit leaves behind, & feeling yet but ill defined.

And now we leave the Orange raid, To view the Party stocks in trade. Holb party Leaders of the West. Sporting are with keenest zest, Long George selects an open stand, With backers countless as the sand And deals with fierce intent to maim. His telling blows with deadly aim; While John A. to a room retires-With backers that position bires; And sitting down to the rich fare, That office hunting fools prepare-Drinks to each placeman, cringing slave, And bows to each expectant knave-Then strikes out, while each drunken owl "Cheers," when he gives a blow most foul. Which one will conquer no one knows, While brawny George is best at blows, Macdonald all the world defies, For well made feints, and subtle lies,

The Legislative Council test, Was won by Clear Grits in the West; Through the whole Province - end to end, The Ministry were all condemned. With gratulation's most sincero. We greet our old friend and confrere Of the Economist, who run, And King's Division nobly won; While John Ham, the base renegade, Who once did faith for office trade Wes saubled - and sold in time his chance, To Gamble, for a fool's advance; But that duped fossilized old case, The last of the old fogy race, Vile relie of the darkest age That stalus our history's bloody page, Was estracted and booked we know For Barnum's entique humbug show.

North York, in most delightful mood, Elected Wilson-wise and good --With sparce enough opposing force To shake the rust from the old course, The Ministry's old golden calf

Could sceros excito derisivo laugh; Yet many worthless loafers fed Upon the gold the image shed— Rated at "One Pound five" per head.

And now good friends and patrons true, Remember the poor Era New; Our tables, fires, heads, backs, and feet, Will your subscriptions gladly greet; And all respond with heartfelt cheer. "OI happy! hoppy! I happy year! !!"
